Automobile Kills Lowell Boy

15-YEAR-OLD BOY RUN OVER AND KILLED BY HEAVY TRUCK IN MERRIMACK STREET

Arthur Rochelle, aged 15 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rochelle, of 28 Race street, died at the Lowell Corporation hospital shortly before noon today as a result of injuries sustained when he was run over by an automobile in Merrimack street at about 11 o'clock. As far as could be learned the boy was riding a bicycle when it skidded on the wet pavement directly in front of a truck owned by the Foster Grain Co., and being operated by Joseph W. Poirier of 11 Newhall street. The machine passed over the boy's body.

The lad is survived by his parents, five brothers, Thomas, Elysee, Albert, Maurice, Francois, and a sister, Irene. The body was removed to the funeral parlors of Undertaker Joseph Albert.

Poirier was arrested on a charge of manslaughter and released under bonds of $2000.

COUNSEL FOR I. W. W. MEMBERS SAYS DELAY IN TRIAL MAY RESULT IN REVOLUTION

SAN FRANCISCO, April 28.—Spread into the southern California oil fields of the I. W. W. strike which previously had affected only marine and forest workers, and a declaration that delay in trial of two men said to be members of the I. W. W. might result in a revolution, were the outstanding points of the demonstration in the west coast today. The declaration regarding a revolution was made in police court in Seattle, where H. M. Peters and O. A. Steiner faced a charge of threatening dock workers. It was made by their attorney, George Vanderveer, in opposing a continuance of their trial which, nevertheless, was set for May 15.

Members of Lowell City Council Drawing Salaries Illegally According to State Constitution

Failure to Take Cognizance of 90-Day Abeyance Clause Applicable to Law Passed April 7, Allowing Plan B Councilors to Establish Their Salaries During Initial Year, in Direct Contrast to Actions of Councils in Marlboro and Waltham, Similarly Affected by Statute

Members of the Lowell city council are drawing salary illegally.

This statement has as its substantiating authority the revised constitution of the commonwealth of Massachusetts, wherein its sections apply to acts similar to that passed by the general court on April 3 and approved and signed by Governor Channing H. Cox on April 7, providing for the initial establishment of salaries of city councilors in cities operating under Plan B.

Article 33 of the revised constitution, entitled: When Statutes Shall Take Effect, says:

"No law passed by the General Court shall take effect earlier than 90 days after it has become law, excepting laws declared to be emergency laws and laws which may not be made the subject of a referendum petition."

The act which allowed councilors under Plan B to establish salaries for themselves during the first year of operation under such plan became law on April 7 immediately applied to the cities of Lowell, Marlboro and Waltham which now are in the first or initial year of government under the Plan B form. This act is state wide in its application inasmuch as it affects all cities, which may in the future elect to govern themselves under the provision of this plan of standard charter.

Shortly after it was ascertained that this law had been approved by the governor, a three months' salary roll, retroactive to January 1, was made out for the Lowell councilors on the basis of an annual salary of $500 and in April this amount was paid.

How about Marlboro and Waltham, the other two cities in the commonwealth affected by this law?

In Marlboro the city council has not taken any action on the question of salary for its members and will not do so until next year, while in Waltham the 90-day clause has been taken into consideration and no salary action will be considered until its expiration, on or about July 7.

Other cities in the state operating under Plan B, accepted prior to this year, are Cambridge, Hingham, Newburyport and Salem.

LOWELL MILL OPERATIVES WILL ACCEPT INCREASE PENDING ORDERS FROM HEADQUARTERS

The 12 1/2 per cent wage increase granted the textile operatives of this city will go into effect next Monday morning and the employees will draw.

Despite the fact that the New England conference board of the United Textile Workers of America at a meeting held in Boston recently, went on record as opposing the increase on the ground that a fight had been started at Fall River for a 20 per cent increase, and only that amount would be accepted by members of the United Textile Workers of America, it was learned today that the operatives of Lowell will accept the increase pending further orders from headquarters.

Their first pay on the new schedule on Saturday, May 12. The increase will affect thousands of operatives employed at the Merrimack Mfg. Co., Massachusetts Cotton Mills, Hamilton Mfg. Co., Appleton Co., Truett & Safford, Peck and Lawrence Mfg. Co., as well as other small factories of the city.

It seems that some three weeks ago the operatives of the plant who work 50 hours a week, filed a demand for a 20 per cent increase, and that their demand was refused. Several meetings were held and finally a vote to strike was taken. Upon reaching Milltown, Mr. Hanley conferred with the union and mill officials, and finally convinced the former to postpone the strike for eight or ten days, at which time it is expected the company will acquiesce to the demand.

De Valera's Proposal Unacceptable

DUBLIN, April 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Eamon de Valera's proposals for peace stand no chance of acceptance until he explains his terms more clearly, according to the consensus of opinion expressed today in Dublin's political circles.

TAXI BEAT TRAIN TO CHELMSFORD

A comely and attractively garbed woman dashed into the Boston & Maine railroad station yesterday afternoon, just as the 5.10 through train to Providence was leaving the station, with a despondent expression upon her features. She started to retrace her steps, to her home on Chapel street, with the thought that she had missed an important appointment in Providence.

At the edge of the curb she was accosted by Raymond Brennan, star chauffeur of the Red Line of taxis, who offered her the usual taxi fare, tax anywhere. She stepped into his cab and asked him to catch the fast moving train. Without a word the driver turned his car, shot up Thorndike street, and headed for the depot at Chelmsford. The train was just leaving the station as Brennan handed his car in close to the tracks. Attracting the ear of the brakeman with his horn as he was approaching, the trainman pulled the signal cord, giving the call to slow down. The train hesitated for an instant and the woman got on board. Score another victory for the Red Line.

DANCING PARTY IS POSTPONED

The dancing party and social under the auspices of the Trade and Labor council, which was scheduled to be held in Trades and Labor hall on the evening of May 3 has been postponed until May 24, because on the evening of May 3 the Federated Crafts of the Boston & Maine will conduct a social at the Auditorium for the benefit of the strikers. The council did not wish to interfere with the plans of the draft and hence the postponement. The officers of the council also hope that the labor people of Lowell will attend the event of the Auditorium and help a worthy cause.

More than 10,000 pieces of wood, metal, felt, cloth and so on are used in making a piano.

This Season's Bride Wears A Satin Wedding Gown

White satin and white lace are the materials of this season's wedding materials. Some of them are quite adaptations of old modes—full skirts, basque bodices, button necklines that slip off the shoulders in the 1850 style. Others are in the latest modes with front drapes in the Egyptian fashion; sleeves models covered with pearl beads embroidery; silver lace over white silk.

Bridesmaid's frocks are made in rainbow colors of organdie, taffeta and chiffon.

HELD ANNUAL GYM NIGHT Record Crowd Sees High School Girls in Action—Unusual Program

The girls of the high school held their annual "Gym Night" in the drill shed of the high school annex last night before the largest crowd that ever attended any sort of an affair there before. It is estimated that more than 1100 were crowded into the hall and each and every one was extremely interested in some of the participants in a program that included many new and novel features.

The program was split into two sections. The first opened with an assembly which was immediately followed by an exhibition of Swedish and corrective dances by representatives of the freshmen class. Folk dancing by the sophomores and juniors was one of the prettiest exhibitions of the evening, and the ring drill by members of the sophomore class showed evidence of very good instruction. The freshmen then gave a dance to the tune of "Comin' Through the Ring" and as a climax, Miss Grace Russell, a native of Scotland and only a short while on these shores, danced the Highland Fling. The last number of the first section was a marching drill by the girl officers, in which numerous evolutions were performed with an ease that comes only after long hours of drill.

The second section of the program followed after an intermission of ten minutes. This part of the program featured dances. The first half of the program featured the gymnasium exercises to a greater extent.

The opening number was an exhibition of acrobatic dancing, two types being given, the Greek and the Russian. The first of these was given by the freshmen and the second by the sophomores. The girls were very well drilled and they were highly applauded for their beautiful work. Then came the Juniors in a club drill that was most perfectly timed. One could look down at a whole column of girls in this drill and it seemed that but one arm was performing the evolutions, the girls were so well drilled. Then an exhibition of apparatus work was given by members of each of the classes. This involved numerous as well as skillful demonstrations and also showed what an advantage was offered the girls in the new gymnasium.

Miss Katherine Harrington then gave a musical visualization danced to the music of Liszt's "Liebestraum." This was without doubt one of the finest exhibitions of the evening, partaking of the Beneshwan type of dancing. Miss Harrington interpreted the music faithfully and her dancing reflected most credit upon the school and Miss Harrington, as it was a most ambitious selection for a high school girl. The crowd went wild with enthusiasm at the end of the number and Miss Harrington was compelled to give an encore.

A characteristic dance, "Easter Bunny," was given by Annabel Perry, Margaret Holgate, Helen Randon, Beatrice Preston, Catherine Walsh, Anna McCarthy and Betty McGee. In costume, this was really a very attractive and the performers were called back for an encore before the program could be continued.

The Language of the Flowers, an artistic conception, was one of the prettiest numbers on the program. Each girl represented a flower and carried a bouquet of her flowers throughout the dance. The participants in this were as follows: Rose, Whitford Lester; Blue, Helen Thurston and Doris Brown; Dandelion, Estelle Buckley; Lilac, Chapman, Thelma, Anna Ahlberg, Miss Parker, Miss Lamberth and Miss Blanche Hannon.

The Parade of the Wooden Soldiers, taken from "The Merry Wives of Windsor," was another feature on a program of feasts. The girls who participated in this gave a wonderful exhibition of their drill and their marching. The girls who participated in this were as follows: Rose, Whitford Lester; Blue, Helen Thurston and Doris Brown; Dandelion, Estelle Buckley; Lilac, Chapman, Thelma, Anna Ahlberg, Miss Parker, Miss Lamberth and Miss Blanche Hannon.

The whole program was under the direction of Miss Frances R. H. Leggat, physical director, assisted by Miss G. M. Hannon, Mrs. Bertha H. Hannon, and Miss Blanche Hannon.

Modern Bride's Costume Is Very Useful and So Is the Bridesmaid's, as These Models Show

BY MARIAN HALE

The 1923 bride does not invest in a costly bridal gown that has its one day of triumph, then lives the rest of its life wrapped in tissue paper in the chest, becoming an heirloom by slow and uninteresting degrees.

Remove the veil and headpiece from this season's model and you get down to a smart little frock of white satin, net, seersucker or taffeta, appropriate for dinners and dances for a season to come.

It is not made of that perfectly dead-white shade that was once the mode and was so generally unbecoming. Now the bride selects a deep cream or ivory tint or a pink shade that is almost flesh and harmonizes with her complexion.

The frock itself is a girlish affair of simple lines and dainty, though the effect of richness and elaboration may be gained through the addition of embroidery, beading or pearl applique.

If her veil is not of real lace, she may use tulle and a wreath of orange blossoms.

The bridal cap may be any style, but undoubtedly the Russian effect, making a frame for the face is most interesting.

Her slippers may be the conventional white satin opera pump or fancy sandals or strapped models of silver brocade. The colonial effect may be carried out by buckles of pearl beads, or a rosette of white lace with an orange blossom nestling in the center. Jeweled heels and toes are seen on some of the most elaborate models.

The bridal bouquet may be as elaborate or as simple as one wishes or may be dispensed with entirely.

A string of pearls or a jeweled pendant are appropriate, but the modern bride is apt to wear no jewels at all.

The bridesmaid, too, has made radical changes in her costume this season. She no longer confines herself to the delicate pastel tones that were once her choice. She may appear in a fairly deep rose, green or blue with a puffy bustle bow in the back or an apron made of lace or tulle, or she may have her costume entirely embroidered in floral patterns.

HIT IN ITALY

Smiling the leading role in "La Tenebris," the Italian American girl, shown here, is sweeping everything before her in a concert tour of Europe.

CHILDREN'S COATS

For children's summer coats black taffeta is going to be very smart, as well as pongee in the natural color.

GREEN AND YELLOW

Green and yellow are popular shades for summer and both are popular for daytime as well as evening wear.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

To Remove Soot

When your cooking pans and coffee pot have become black and sooty on the bottom, set them in a shallow vessel with a little water in which a teaspoon of soda has been dissolved. Heat the water to the boiling point and they can easily be made clean and new looking.

Cake Batter

Mix your cake batter with a large wooden spoon. It becomes light much sooner and is much less tiring for the arm.

Kitchen Table

Since much of your work is done at the kitchen table, you should have it at just the correct height. If too low, have it built up, if too high, shorten it. Your table makes a great deal of difference in the way you will feel at the end of the day.

Furniture Polisher

For very fine furniture, silk is an excellent polisher. Save your old worn-out silk hanger for this purpose.

Good Appetizer

Anchovy paste and chopped mustard pickles, served on crackers, make an unusually good appetizer.

Removing Hand Stains

Some vegetables stain the hands with an ugly dark stain difficult to remove with soap and water. A raw potato cut in half, however, rubbed over the stains will usually remove them easily. Lemon juice or tomato also are effective.

PLEATED SKIRTS

The knife-pleated skirt of white crepe de chine is to be one of the most popular pieces in the summer wardrobe. With a sweater, coat or overblouse it forms an attractive costume.

The nightingale's song may be heard at a distance of a mile on a calm night.

MEAT PIE

Take equal parts of well-cooked meat, corn and fine bread crumbs. Put a layer of crumbs in a baking dish, then a layer of meat with two or three stalks of celery, well chopped and mixed in; season with salt and paprika and butter, add alternating layer of crumbs and meat, until the dish is filled, using crumbs for top layer. Cover with milk and bake a full hour in moderate oven.

EARRINGS, NECKLACES

Matching sets of earrings and necklaces are now shown, made up in corals, jade, amber and other colored stones and held together by a gold or silver chain.

LACE JABOTS

Lace jabots trim some of this season's handkerchief frocks. Sometimes they confine their decorative efforts to the blouse, but frequently they extend to the hemline.

FASHIONABLE SLEEVES

The circular cuffs which have been effectively used on this season's sleeve are multiplying and frequently one sees four or five where one used to grow. Indications are that sleeves for fall are to be extremely elaborate.

SUMMER VELVET

The newest jacquette is made of chiffon velvet of vivid shade. Sometimes gold threads are woven into an overdesign to add to its attractiveness. Velvet hats are also fashionable.

SEASON'S WRAPS

Despite the vogue for flowing capes and fancy wraps, some of the most elegant and the most expensive coats stick to straight lines and the narrow silhouette. Many costumes on strictly colored lines are seen.

SURPRISE EFFECT

The surprise effect is featured in coat dresses and those of rep and twill. It is an excellent line for the woman who could eliminate a few pounds to advantage.

BLACK FASHIONABLE

From India there are rumors that the all-black costume has by no means seen its day, and that smart women there are clinging to it and are reviving the short skirt of a season back.

BACK ACHED TERRIBLY

Mrs. Robinson Tells How She Found Relief by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Amarillo, Texas.—"My back was my greatest trouble. It would ache so that it would almost kill me and I would have cramps. I suffered in this way about three years; then a lady friend suggested that I try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have had better health since, keep house and am able to do my work. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends as it has certainly given me great relief."—Mrs. C. B. Robinson, 608 N. Lincoln St., Amarillo, Tex.

The Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for women. It relieves the troubles which cause such symptoms as backache, painful times, irregularity, tired and worn-out feelings and nervousness. This is shown again and again by such letters as Mrs. Robinson writes as well as by one woman telling another. These women know what it did for them. It is a truly worth your trial.

Housewives make a great mistake in allowing themselves to become so ill that it is almost impossible for them to attend to their necessary household duties.

Frills Abound on Children's Newest Frocks from Paris

The children's frocks that come from Paris are frillier than they have been for some seasons past, using rows of Valenciennes lace, ruffles and ribbons for trimmings.

Many of them depart from the straight line rule and are bloused on low waistslines with very full shirred skirts or made with basque blouses. Taffetas and organdies are used for dress-up frocks and a variety of plain, striped and checked fabrics for play dresses.

REFORM CLUB AUXILIARY

At a meeting of young women held last evening in the club rooms of the Reform club and auxiliary to the club was formed and officers were elected. There were about 20 women present and all pledged themselves to make the organization a successful one. At the close of the meeting a social hour was held during which dancing was enjoyed.

First Aid Contest by Local Telephone Co. Won by Captain Quinn's Team

Winning first aid team of the New England Telephone and Telegraph company which will represent Lowell in the district competition against teams from Lawrence, Haverhill and Concord. Left to right—Captain Edward M. Quinn, Joseph E. Morrison, Chester O. Lindquist, Myron T. Hunnewell, Joseph C. Jennings and Joseph T. McGirr, Lowell district safety instructor.

Capt. Edward Quinn's first aid team won the Lowell Telephone and Telegraph competition for efficiency in emergency treatment, in the contest held in Odd Fellows hall on Middlesex st., last night, to select a team to represent this city against Lawrence, Haverhill and Concord, for the district championship. The winning team emerged from the contest with an average of 97.5 out of a possible 100. Capt. Benjamin Ashworth led his team to the pole a close second, with a mark of 96.8.

Capt. Roland Gougeon's representatives registered 90.4 and the fourth club led by Charles Rogers trailed the procession with 88.5. The latter team has only been practicing for two weeks, and as a result of the unfamiliarity with the proper methods of procedure, they lost points by taking extra time.

Four teams took the floor, with five players on each club. They were presented with five problems, apt to happen to a crew on outside work. The first problem was as follows: Lineman's spurs cut out on pole and as a result of fall, he has broken kneecap of right leg, dislocated right shoulder and fractured jaw. The competition was close in this problem, team one and two being credited with 22 points.

The regular captain acted as patient in the second problem while the regular patient administered the treatment. The problem, an automobile backfired while being cranked; chauffeur sustains a simple fracture of the right wrist and a cut over right eye. Team two was credited with a perfect mark in this problem. One and three getting 37.

The third problem: Lineman fell from pole, lost simple fracture of right thigh, cut on calf of right leg with arterial bleeding and fracture of lower leg. Prepare for transportation and carry patient around enclosure.

Two men and a patient entered the fourth problem. Cable splicer found unconscious from gas. League patient and every by fireman's hold, then render artificial respiration for one minute and treat burn on right hand. Teams two and three made a perfect score in this problem.

Capt. Quinn's players won the contest in the last problem with a mark of 39. An extension ladder slips, throwing lineman in ground, causing simple fracture of right thigh, compound fracture of left arm above the elbow and dislocated jaw.

The announcement of the winning team was greeted with cheers by the assembly of telephone employees gathered around the sides of the hall. Arthur Hinde of Boston, division first aid instructor, acted as chief judge. Other judges were Charles A. Cook of Fall River, Scott B. Pirry of Framingham, John M. Jurney, Jr., of Salem and Wilmarth Pierce of Taunton.

all safety first instructors. Joseph T. McGirr officiated as time-keeper; W. C. Johnson as recorder and Albert Alcott as checker.

The winning team will meet Haverhill, Concord and Lawrence in the latter city May 2, for the district championship. The winner of this competition will compete for the divisional championship in this city May 31, against teams from the Salem, New Bedford, Brockton and Framingham districts.

The teams were made up as follows, placed according to their standing in the elimination trial: Capt. Edward Quinn, Chester O. Lindquist patient; Joe C. Jennings, Jos. E. Morrison and Myron T. Hunnewell.

Capt. Benjamin Ashworth, Louis J. Turner, Edward M. McKoon patient; John Lessard and Morris E. Nelson.

Capt. Roland Gougeon, David Ramsey, Elton Thompson, Joseph Spillars, and patient, Waterhouse.

Capt. Charles Rogers, Wilfred Hammond, patient; Lewis Haddock, James Devan and Edward Jennings.

Emergency kits are carried on all company trucks. Schools of instruction are held at stated periods to teach the employees the methods of treatment if an accident occurs. The work is voluntary; there is no extra pay, simply means, perhaps, of saving a fellow worker's life, or alleviating him of pain in case of minor injuries.

public announcement had been made, and in that plan there had been methods of meeting the human element and overcoming objections.

It's all very well to produce figures and facts, blue-prints and maps, but how about the selling talk to make those things effective? If in the first announcement of their proposed expansion the Saco-Lowell had "sold" their idea, they would not have met the hesitation in the council nor opposition from anybody. The fact is that their idea was not half-sold. Now they have to use argument and negotiation to force the "sale."

Referring again to Norval Hawkins, "You can pick up a slide-rule any time without giving it a smile and it will do its little job for you quickly, unquestionably, and without a grumble. Then you can throw it down and need no more attention to it. You need show no special interest in its performance. You do not need to help it with encouragement or advice, and when its work does not bring the result you wanted, you can show all the temper you please. Above all, you never need to tell your slide-rule the reason why. It will work as well for a baby as for a general, as for a real man—but men will not. They are handicapped with all sorts of human touchiness and personal ambitions."

That's what the Saco-Lowell should have remembered!

Chelmsford Street Hospital

The writer toured the Chelmsford street hospital recently, under the guidance of one of the attendants and though depressed by the sorrow harbored there, was interested particularly in one statement made by his leader.

We were gazing out into the yard where many old codgers, dependent upon charity for a living and a home, were lounging in the sun for the first time after the long winter. Many of them were very aged and what would make one sad was to realize that they had given up the battle, having abandoned hope of ever leaving their present abode.

One of the most natural questions was: "How many inmates have you now?"

The attendant answered that during the winter the institution was filled, but that just as soon as "spring comes" and the robins fly, the attendance drops considerably. "Already many of the men have heard the robins chirping and have gone their way; there are 324 inmates now," he replied.

And then in passing through the hospital it really did seem that the cheerfulness of spring had pierced the sadness, bringing smiles and signs of joyfulness. But how heart-breaking it was to see so many old men and women unable to answer the call of spring, or the chirping of the robins! There is the real sorrow of the place!

FEELS LIKE A NEW PERSON

System Building Tonic Treatment Was Exactly What Mrs. Day Required

Many people are far from well, but have no organic disease and regular calls by a busy physician seem a waste of his time. But to the patient the loss of health, strength and vigor takes much of the joy out of life. In such cases a system building tonic that will enrich the blood and strengthen the nerves will usually enable nature to set the sufferer on the road to health.

Such a case follows:

"I had a general giving out of my health," says Mrs. Bertha Day, of No. 62 Alder street, Portland, Me., "and no treatment that I took seemed to even check the decline.

"I was sick all over and did not have a bit of strength or ambition. I had a heavy, dull headache and a pain in the back of my neck. I was short of breath after a greater exertion than walking upstairs. My digestion was disordered and I was subject to heartburn and nausea.

"Upon the advice of Mr. Day's mother I began to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and by the time I had finished the first box I began to gain strength. I took six boxes in all and they made me feel like a new person. They built me up, I gained in flesh and my headaches vanished. My nerves are strong. I have a good appetite and I have great faith in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a tonic and blood builder."

The lowering of the tone of the system which results from thin blood is easy to recognize. Weakness is always present, a tendency to perspire and fatigue easily, ringing in the ears, black spots passing before the eyes, weak back, dizziness, wakefulness and unrefreshing sleep. These conditions Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will correct.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or direct from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., on receipt of price, 60 cents per box. Send for the free booklet, "Building Up the Blood."—Adv.

ALL SET FOR RACE

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 28.—With prospects of a favorable conclusion, eight cured crews of Massachusetts, Tech and Navy, were set for their regatta on the Severn river today.

Navy's junior varsity and "plebes" crews, against Tech's light or 150-pound eight in the opening contest at 4 o'clock and the varsity crews of the two institutions will meet immediately afterward.

Table Linen

Never starch tablecloths or table linen. Into the water in which you are rinsing them add a tablespoon of methylated spirit to a gallon of rinsing water. This will make them stiff enough and glossy and white as well.

From the police station, or those with delirium tremens, the attendant explained the evident effects of moonshine or bad liquor.

Before prohibition he said that violent drunks or D. T.s would be in a bad condition for four or five days, but with the moonshine and poisonous liquor now obtainable the effects extend into periods of eight to ten days.

He declared that there have been drunks confined at the hospital who could drink deeply of wood alcohol, a sip of which would blind or kill the average person.

Permanent paralysis is one consequence of moonshine, which attacks the kidneys and thus reaches the spine.

Warren Street Fire Station

What is to be done with the Warren street fire station? It has been empty for probably two years now.

It is understood that when the city took over the Warren street fire station from the Middlesex company the stipulation was made that if ever the city should give it up as a fire station, it should revert directly to the Middlesex company.

The city still assumes control of the building through the fire department, although it was given up as a fire station really about two years ago. An old fire engine has been stored there ever since, however, and perhaps that maintains the status of the building as a fire station, is the city preventing any profitable use of the building by using it simply for storing an old wagon?

SUMMER ENCAMPMENT FUND BOOSTED

The summer encampment fund of the St. Peter's Cadets received a boost last night, as a result of the successful impromptu minstrel show and dance put over by the Cadets in Lincoln hall. A capacity audience was entertained by the original and amusing antics of the performers. The work of the chorus of 25 voices was exceptionally good for an amateur production.

The orchestra opened the program with a well rendered selection, "The Wooden Soldiers." The chorus followed with a revue of old time songs, that carried an appeal to the audience. William Glode won favor with a solo, "Angels." Joseph Gullage pleased with a violin solo, "Fate."

"O You Little Darling," by Gerald Hennessy, impersonating Madame Geraldine, went over big. A violin solo, "Telepathy," by Edward Shugurs, was well played. William Conston sang "Mush, Mush," in an amusing manner. Next John Hogan sang "Buddy." Edward Welch sang "Auld Lang Syne." The cadet chorus closed the entertainment. Dancing was enjoyed until a late hour.

New World's Dancing Record

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, April 28.—A new world's dancing endurance record was established here today when Albert Kish of this city beat the mark of 112 hours established Thursday at San Antonio, Tex., by A. C. Watson. Kish continued dancing.

The Looker-on in Lowell

Salesmanship is something we all must know—as it affects our daily work and our social affairs. We all must be our own salesmen, we all must look out for our own goods, that is, be bold in ourselves, in what we are, what we do, or can do and ought to do. The first requisite of good salesmanship is to know and believe in your goods. Therefore, the first requisite to personal salesmanship or success is to know yourself, have confidence in yourself, know your abilities and also your faults.

New ideas to be successful, must be sold properly to those people who will be affected by the changes you propose. As Norval A. Hawkins, director of sales, advertising, advisory staff, of the General Motors Corporation has said, "You cannot get a plan across unless you sell the idea and sell it the right way, and you cannot sell it the right way unless you know how to sell. New ideas to become effective must be sold. You cannot cram them into people's heads as you might force raw material into a machine. Forced feeding cannot be made successful in the case of the human machine. It is just as important to work out a systematic plan of selling your ideas across to the other fellow as it is to develop the ideas themselves. There are no problems of life involving relations between man and man that salesmanship cannot aid in solving.

Take the Saco-Lowell expansion program as an example for the necessity of salesmanship.

There is no doubt that the Saco-Lowell officials were at fault in rushing out (if they did it at all) a systematic plan of selling their proposition to the public, the city government, and particularly to those people who would be most affected by it.

It really seems that the Saco-Lowell announced their intentions of expanding and closing Worthen street before they were prepared even to fully explain their plans. In other words, they didn't know their goods—they didn't know what they could do or what they ought to have done. How much easier it would have been if an efficient selling plan had been organized before

RESTORED TO GOOD HEALTH MOTHER AND CHILDREN GRATEFUL

In East Boston, Mass., at 23 Lamson street, a contented family of three children and the mother, live daily thanking in silence the kind neighbor who helped them when they were sick. Mrs. Nellie Woodford is the mother and she writes the following letter to Dr. J. P. True & Co.: "Having heard about your medicine from my neighbors and druggists, I wondered if your Dr. True's Elixir wasn't what I needed. I was a hard-working woman, working six hours every day for the Penn Realty Trust Company in Boston. In doing this work I use a lot of strength. Besides this, looking after my house and the care of my three children were me out.

"I always had no special doctor for myself and the children, but I was out of town when I was sick. I took medicine from the druggist which my friends brought in, but nothing did any good. My bowels were out of order. My breath had, and I was shaky all over. Worst of all the terrible headaches came. It seemed I had suffered years before your Dr. True's Elixir was brought to me by a neighbor.

"After a short time I began to cheer up and be myself again. My bowels were soon in order and I noticed that the dizzy spells had left me. I think your Elixir wonderful. I feel full of gratitude toward Dr. True's Elixir.

"The children sometimes eat things which don't agree with them, when I am not around to see, and then cramps and constipation follow. I just get out my bottle of Dr. True's Elixir and find no trouble in getting them to take some. It is easy to take. Their bowels are loose all right. It may interest you to know that recently my youngest child was terribly sick and it was a serious case. We all have your Elixir to thank for relieving her of stomach worms. When I gave it to Louise it acted like magic, and fixed her up only after two doses."

Signs of worms are: Constipation, hard and full stomach, swollen upper lip, sour stomach, offensive breath, and occasional pain, pale face of leaden tint, eyes heavy and dull, twitching eyelids, itching of the nostrils, and short dry coughs, grinding of the teeth, little red points sticking out on the tongue, starting during sleep, with troublesome dreams, slow fever. If your children show any of these symptoms, start giving Dr. True's Elixir, the True Family Laxative and Worm Expeller at once. It has done wonders for children and grown-ups since 1861. Made of imported herbs of strictly pure quality. Internationally known. 40c—60c—$1.20.—Adv.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

R. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Clarence Oliver and Georgie Olp the Undisputed Headliners of Next Week's Big Feature Show—Gaud Sunday Program.

Jimmy Fenton and Sammy Fields will lead off in the big Sunday shows at the R. F. Keith theatre tomorrow, both afternoon and evening. This wonderful feature show cannot fail to elicit applause for their act is really one of the best of the entire season. Master Gabriel will also be on this bill with his company, and others who are slated for the day are Healy & Cross, in songs; Rolland & Ray, in comedy; Peggy Brooks, a singing comedienne; The Farrelles and Jim and Betty Maye.

For the coming week's show there will be featured Clarence Olp in "Wire Collect," a very clever playlet by Wm. Anthony McGuire. Mr. Olp and Miss Olp landed from the legitimate stage into the two-day in wonderful fashion a few years ago, and since that time they have had no desire to return to the straight drama. Neither have the straight drama. It is worthy of notice that Mr. McGuire, who framed this clever playlet, is the author of the biggest hit on Broadway this season, "Recall Danny Deag." You ought to see this very graceful dancer has adorned our public dance halls in past seasons. He has a host of friends in this city who will be anxious to see him at his pet aversion. Winner of more than 50 dancing tournaments, Danny Deagan can rightfully claim all sorts of prize honors. He is of the timber which makes for real theatrical stunts, and he will be assisted by Madelyn Meredith and Freddie Sanborn.

The laughing stock of vaudeville—Roe and Emma Dean. Not everybody can climb to such a position as the laughing stock, but the Deans are there with a vengeance. Here is an act which has the wise rube character in it, and also the best young woman who tries but ineffectually, to put it over the hick. The act is all fun.

Getting the very best music out of the accordion is the trick which Professor follows. It is hard to believe that there is so much pure melody in this hellish-like instrument, but this Italian is complete master of it, and he will prove one of the big hits of the week. Count Perrone and Miss Triz Olp have a musical act which is of very high grade. Count Perrone, wounded during the war, fortunately possessed a wonderful baritone voice. He is now using it in the concert. Miss Olp is not only a pleasing soprano, but she serves as an accompanist to the count.

An Artistic Treat, with Margaret Stewart and William Downing, assisted by Benita Stewart, is a high class posing act which will win admiration. Double foot jugglers—among the very few in the world—are the Worden Brothers, who will provide a thrilling opening to the big show.

THE STRAND THEATRE

If You Want to Know About Poor Men's Wives Go to The Strand Next Week

"Poor Men's Wives," a sequel to "Rich Men's Wives," the Gasnier production that created such a favorable impression on all patrons a few weeks back will be the chief attraction at The Strand for four days beginning with matinee on Sunday. This special picture offering will be shown Sunday in connection with the regular vaudeville. For the remaining three days, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, the additional scenes offerings will be Shirley Mason in "Lovebound," and the first and only complete motion picture of "The Land of Tutankh-Amen." For the last three days of the week, starting on Thursday, the big Mack Sennett production, "The Crossroads of New York," and Charles (Buck) Jones in "Boss of Camp 4," will be shown in connection with the usual comedy and variety.

"Poor Men's Wives" is the story of two characters, Laura Bedford and Charbel Hayes, who work in the same modest shop. Charbel is the butler and Laura the cook. Every evening in come Charbel's way—green film Mabeena, a big jovial taxi-driver with whom Laura is secretly in love. Charbel wins another man's heart and turns him down. The latter comes to Laura for consolation and the first of her dreams comes true. They are married and live economically but happily, saving for "that rainy day" while Charbel leads a wild life, forgetting the future. After two years the girls meet again and Charbel still is leading the life of ease and luxury. She makes it a point to impress on Laura her life of ordinary living as contrasted to her own of ease and comfort. The result is a desire on Laura's part to get a glimpse of "the other side of life." Her suggestion that she attend some social function is frowned on by her husband, but she simply can't resist and steals away one night to visit Charbel and accompany him to a fancy dress ball. The developments and results are best told by the picture itself. To relate them here would be depriving those who are to see it of much pleasure. You will be surprised as well as interested by the finale. See it. An all-star cast is engaged in its presentation.

For Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Shirley Mason in "Lovebound," gives this dainty and clever young miss an exceptional chance of indicating her talents and charm.

Of special interest to all will be the presentation of "The Land of Tutankh-Amen," which was actually taken at the site of the tomb and adjacent territory of the historic Valley of Kings. Views of the prominent visitors and members of royalty attracted to the scene of excavation are shown, the queen of the Belgians and General Alaphay, as well as others equally well known. Views of Cairo, the River Nile, the plains of Thebes, the Temple Ramesses and many other royal sepulchres, hewn from solid rock, are shown in the vicinity of the tomb of Tutankh-Amen.

In view of the newspaper notices given the recent expedition to this place, and the startling discoveries made there, patrons generally will be interested in this showing.

For the last three days of the week the big Mack Sennett production, "The Crossroads of New York," a six reel comedy melodrama, showing the life and lure of the Great White Way, will head the bill. It's New York—right side, night side, bright side, night side! The tale of the way of a country lad with three city ladies: Laughing, crying, and finally making you sit up. And the cast has 12 real stars including Noah Berry, Ethel Grey Terry and others of equal screen value.

The second feature for the week-end will be Charles (Buck) Jones in "Boss of Camp 4," a western thriller that will have genuine merit to it. The usual comedy and variety will also be given.

RIALTO THEATRE

Priscilla Dean in "The Flame of Life" and Gladys Walton in "The Dangerous Game" at the Rialto

At the Rialto theatre for the first part of next week there is a most attractive program scheduled. It is a program which has attracted the big Mack Sennett production, "The Crossroads of New York," and Charles (Buck) Jones in "Boss of Camp 4," will be shown in connection with the usual comedy and variety.

"The Flame of Life," which has Miss Dean in the leading role, is a story of English mining, in which the well known star is introduced as one of the hard women workers of the corporation. She is engaged at the daily work of picking the slate from the coal at the minehead and the work is laborious and hard. Working conditions are far from ideal in this coal mining life, so much so that each of the employees has learned to look upon the overseers and superintendents with suspicion and hate. Into this life comes a new official who reverses all the bad conditions and makes life worth while. He is called upon to make a tremendous sacrifice through the cowardly act of a bully and the girl steps into the breach and rescues a few score miners from a dangerous explosion.

"The Dangerous Game," is another attractive story in which Gladys Walton is featured. The picture is based on a story written by Louis Doina and published in the Ladies Home Journal.

For Sunday the Rialto has as its feature the production "Hail the Woman," Master Gabriel in "The Woman" is seen in a ripping comedy and Harold Lloyd has another good comedy.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

America's Greatest Female Impersonator, Tommie Martelle in "The Gay Young Bride"

Probably the greatest event in the actual history for some time to come is the announcement that Mr. Al. Luttringer, owner of the Opera House has again secured the services of Mr. Tommie Martelle who is without a doubt the greatest drawing card in the country today, in his latest starring vehicle, "The Gay Young Bride."

"The Gay Young Bride" is a specially written play for Mr. Martelle. It carries with it every requisite of a winner. Compounded of hilarious comedy, side-splitting situations, jingling music, it will keep your feet tapping on the floor and whizz-bang dance numbers will help keep this big success moving at a lively pace. The story of "The Gay Young Bride" starts out when Martelle puts on women's clothes and impersonates his sister, so that his pal can put through a marriage and fulfill the requirements of his uncle's will, which stipulates that he must become a husband in 24 hours after or lose $800,000. The pal doesn't want to lose all this money, and also doesn't want to get married, because his fiancée is many thousands miles away. So Martelle promises to keep on posing as the blushing bride until sister arrives in town. Everything is ready and Martelle plants a foot on a rich old gentleman who gets madly in love with the influence of his charming and winsome steps in, and from that time on there are complications galore, interrupted only by songs and by dance numbers that will please you as much as the moving picture comedy. Mr. Martelle will be assisted by the Luttringer players, all of whom have entered into the spirit of the new production. This production has marked all their previous work. No advance in the prices. Special attention is called to the fact that there will be matinees every day next week. This is done in order to accommodate the crowds as it was found on his last show, that many people would have been able to attend the show providing that there were matinees every day.

MERRIMACK SQUARE

Jackie Coogan in "Oliver Twist," Feature Attraction for Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Merrimack Square theatre management announces the engagement for four days, beginning tomorrow, the noted production of Charles Dickens' famous masterpiece, "Oliver Twist," with Jackie Coogan in the leading role.

The management has made arrangements to have "Oliver Twist" shown four times daily during its local engagement.

The final performance each evening will be at 9 o'clock, this enabling those who wish to enjoy the hours of daylight saving out of doors to get into the theatre after darkness has fallen and see the main feature.

It cannot be said that any novel of the length of "Oliver Twist" can be set forth either on stage or screen and remain in perfect agreement with the original; but, while some will wish that this or that episode had been chosen from the book rather than what is filmed, it must be conceded that Mr. Lloyd took with a logical hand those portions of the novel that lent themselves best to the medium of the screen and were most readily welded together into a plot paralleling that told by Dickens the story of how of Oliver and then plotted to destroy his life.

The other big feature for the first part of the week will be "Crimoline and Romance," starring Viola Dana in one of the most entertaining attractions of her screen career. Seidman has this vivacious and beautiful star appeared in a comedy-drama that appeals so directly to all classes of spectators. It's a story of romance and adventure that one can't outline on paper unless he wishes to detract from the pleasure of those who are to see it on the screen. Miss Dana is supported by an able cast.

ADMITS HE KILLED WIFE

Carlson Deliberately Drove Auto Over Embankment—Machine Turned Turtle

Both Thrown Into Water—Put Cushion on Wife's Head and Sat on It

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., April 27.—Arrested on a charge of murder, a month after his alleged crime, John A. Carlson, a plumbing contractor of this city, was held without bonds today. Carlson, 39, was picked up last night after he had made a confession that he killed his wife, Frieda, on March 24, according to the police.

Mrs. Carlson was believed to have been drowned when an automobile went down an embankment and overturned into a pond on the Berlin road between this city and Hartford. The man told the police that his wife was driving the machine at the time. County and local police have conducted an investigation and last night they confronted Carlson with evidence they had gathered. Carlson then was said to have admitted the charges.

In his statement, the police say, Carlson told of driving to Hartford with his wife where they looked at fur coats in several stores.

A quarrel followed his refusal to purchase a $200 fur coat and finally she accepted a coat costing $130. On the way home, Carlson then was said to have told the police, the quarrel continued and he became more wrathful. At the foot of a hill, the police say, Carlson deliberately drove the car over an embankment. The machine overturned, banked, and both were thrown into shallow water. Then, Carlson is said to have admitted, he placed a cushion on his wife's head and chest, and sat on it, holding her beneath the surface of the pond. He sat there until her struggles ceased, according to his statement, and then went to the highway and obtained assistance. He rode to a hospital in an ambulance with his wife's body and told officers that the accident occurred when his wife lost control of the car.

Carlson and his wife were married 24 years ago. Two sons, aged 19 and 15, live with Carlson, his age as 44.

Carlson pleaded not guilty to a charge of murder in police court today. His case was continued to next Tuesday and he was locked up.

FIVE BOMB EXPLOSIONS ON RUHR RAILROADS

DUESSELDORF, April 27.—(By the Associated Press) Five separate bomb explosions on the Ruhr railroads during the night cut railway, telegraph and telephone communications, temporarily disrupting traffic. French headquarters said the explosion had caused the most serious damage since the beginning of the occupation.

During the confusion the Germans made a series of efforts to run the customs barrier into interior Germany. German troops were trying to get through but were being held by the French.

The explosions tore up sections of track and blew down the wires alongside in instances. In one case near Bonn, a French troop train, heavily loaded, had a narrow escape.

The explosion cut the line from the Eastern Ruhr to Dusseldorf, which is much needed for troop movements and the carriage of supplies. Four other lines were cut in the vicinity of Hattigen.

The Infected Sebum in Your Hair

Sebum is an oil. It forms at the follicles of the hair. Its natural function is to supply the hair with oil. But frequently it becomes infected. It clogs the scalp; clogs the follicles and plugs them. Germs by the millions breed in it, then feed upon the hair. Soon your hair begins falling. You note how lifeless it appears. In a short time, all the natural lustre and beauty are gone.

But—and note this scientific fact—remove the Sebum and the hair reverts back to the softness and brilliancy it displayed when you were a school girl.

The Van Ess treatment accomplishes that result. We know you will doubt it. So we guarantee it. We urge you to give this new way a fair trial. It is folly not to test it; for, remember, you take no risk.

VETERAN LOSES PENSION

Grant for Bunion Withdrawn When Amputation Removed Original Disability

ABERDEEN, Scotland, April 27.—The inexorable logic of "realism" has played a trick on an Aberdeen veteran. The man was incapacitated during the war through an injury to his foot and when a large tumor appeared on the affected member, a grateful country rewarded the veteran with a small pension. However, the bunion in time developed into a more serious disability, and a few weeks ago it was found necessary to amputate the foot at the ankle.

The former soldier has just been notified by the ministry of pensions that his grant has been withdrawn because the original disability had passed away.

GREATER FREEDOM FROM TARIFF URGED

LONDON, April 27.—Viscount Leveson, who started his business life wrapping soap in his father's grocery store and who now is one of the greatest business men in the world, today voiced his ideas regarding Anglo-American trade before the American society.

Greater freedom from tariff should be the goal of the business men of both countries, he said. There was a time, he continued, when England was a protectionist country, but she found it did not pay for the home market of any country is easily supplied. Care must be exercised, or over-seas opportunities will be neglected and lost.

He added that he believed the United States eventually would follow the example of England and abolish artificial trade barriers. It was his contention that the last word in industry had not been spoken when a tariff wall was erected around a country.

GENERAL MOVEMENT OF NEGROES TO THE NORTH

WASHINGTON, April 27.—The general movement of southern Negro farmers to northern industrial centers, shown by a recent survey of the department of agriculture, will be continued, have a very marked effect upon the labor supply in the north and upon the negro race itself. In the opinion of officials of the census bureau.

An analysis by the bureau of the negro population statistics of the 1920 census shows marked tendencies toward interstate migration and concentration in cities. During the decade nearly 235,000 negroes removed to cities in the south Atlantic states and nearly the same number to cities in the east north central states. The increase in these cities, averaging nearly 50 per cent, affords a vivid statistical picture in the opinion of census officials, of a systematic effort in industry and commerce to supply with the negro worker the unskilled labor needs largely met by immigration before that was checked at the beginning of the war.

LAW CHALLENGED

TO MERGE TROLLEY AND MOTOR BUS SERVICE

CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 27.—C. E. Fumons of Baltimore, president of the American Electric Railway association, speaking before the Society of Automotive Engineers today, said that the ultimate solution of local transportation problems would be the co-ordination of electric railway and motor bus service. No conflict exists between the motor and electric railways, he declared, although some railways are suffering from motor competition engendered by individuals. Leaders of both industries, he added, are working together to determine the best methods of co-ordinating local service.

Mr. Fumons urged Alfred Reeves, general manager of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, as declaring that bus and truck lines should be operated by railroad men as feeders to trolley and steam lines.

LANDRY SAID HE SMELLED MOONSHINE

Ernest Landry, charged with breaking and entering in the night time with intent to commit larceny in the camp of George W. Morrison at Mud pond, Tyngsboro, was committed today to the county jail. The complaint against him was that he had been broken into on two occasions and several valuables taken or destroyed. Landry was seen prowling around the vicinity of a Tyngsboro officer last evening and he was taken into custody on a suspicion of being the culprit.

Testifying in his own behalf, Landry told the court that he was in the camp about 6:30 last evening, and his curiosity was aroused by a moonshine odor, which he alleged, came from the camp in question. He was investigating when the officer arrested him.

Morrison denied having any moonshine on his premises, and added that it was near 6 o'clock that the break was made. Landry's record is serving a probationary period for drunkenness.

Do Your Children Grow Fast Enough?

Are They Sturdy, Healthy, and Strong, or Pale, Weak and Run Down?

Growing children need a great deal of food, and sometimes they will not eat the kind of food that they need for strength, then they become thin, pale, and run down.

This condition of under-nourishment can be corrected by taking Father John's Medicine, which does contain just the food elements such children need, and that is why so many children gain weight eagerly while they are taking this old-fashioned family medicine.

Father John's Medicine is an expertly blended preparation of cod liver oil with other ingredients in such a way that its food elements can be easily taken up by those who are weak and run down. Your friends and neighbors know its value. Thousands of mothers depend upon it to keep their children well and strong. Adv.

DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME NATIONAL GARDEN WEEK

IN EFFECT TOMORROW IN THE SCHOOLS

The daylight saving law goes into effect in Massachusetts at 3 a. m. although from the standpoint of personal convenience it is advisable to set clock and watch hands ahead one hour before retiring tonight. This will obviate the painful necessity of arising near the zero hour and the effect tomorrow morning will be identical.

This year is the fifth in which daylight saving will go into effect locally. It will continue until Sept. 24. By this time Lowell folks have become accustomed to this change in time and confusion is expected only in isolated instances.

The transition amounts to nothing more than this: Move all clocks ahead one hour and then go on living as normally as before. Operate entirely by time-pieces which conform to daylight saving time and do not become confused because railroad clocks are running an hour earlier. Catch trains by daylight saving watches and clocks. For instance, the railroad may call the train that leaves Boston for Lowell at 3 o'clock, the 3 o'clock train, but you should worry.

DIFFERENCE OF TIME IN THE CHURCHES

With the inauguration of daylight saving time tomorrow, local churchgoers are apt to become confused in the scheduled hours of service. Of the English-speaking Catholic churches, St. Margaret's, St. Columba's, St. Michael's and the Sacred Heart will conduct services according to daylight saving time, while the Immaculate Conception, St. Patrick's and St. Peter's churches will abide by eastern standard time or the same as last Sunday.

The women's mission in St. Margaret's church will be brought to a close tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock with sermon, benediction of the Blessed Sacrament and bestowal of the pascal blessing. The men's mission will open in the evening at 7:30 and continue through the following Sunday afternoon.

The Dominicans will open a two weeks' mission in St. Michael's church tomorrow evening, the first devoted to the women and the second to the men.

The devotion to Rita will be continued in St. Columba's tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock. The preacher tomorrow evening will be Rev. John P. Welch of St. Francis church, South Boston. Beginning a week from Sunday, the devotion will start at 7 o'clock.

All the French churches, St. Joseph's, cordance with the daylight saving in St. Jean Baptiste, St. Louis, Notre Dame, St. Louis, St. Jean d'Arc and St. Marie will conduct services in accordance with the daylight saving time.

Members of Lowell City Council
Drawing Salaries Illegally According to State Constitution

Failure to Take Cognizance of 90-Day Abeyance Clause
Applicable to Law Passed April 7, Allowing Plan B
Councilors to Establish Their Salaries During Initial Year, in Direct Contrast to Actions of Councils in Marlboro and Waltham, Similarly Affected by Statute

Members of the Lowell city council are drawing salary illegally.

This statement has as its substantiating authority the revised constitution of the commonwealth of Massachusetts, wherein its sections only to acts similar to that passed by the general court on April 3 and approved and signed by Governor Channing H. Cox on April 7, providing for the initial establishment of salaries of city councilors in cities operating under Plan B.

Article 93 of the revised constitution, entitled: When Statutes Shall Take Effect, says:

"No law passed by the General Court shall take effect earlier than 90 days after it has become law, excepting laws declared to be emergency laws and laws which may not be made the subject to a referendum petition."

The act which allowed councilors under Plan B to establish salaries for themselves during the first year of operation under such plan became law on April 7 and immediately applied to the cities of Lowell, Marlboro and Waltham which now are in the first or initial year of government under the Plan B form. This act is state wide in its application inasmuch as it affects all cities, which may in the future, elect to govern themselves under the provision of this plan of standard charter.

Shortly after it was ascertained that this law had been approved by the governor, a three months' salary roll, retroactive to January 1, was made out for the Lowell councilors on the basis of an annual salary each of $500 and in April this amount pro-rated on a three months' basis, was paid.

How about Marlboro and Waltham, the other two cities in the commonwealth affected by this law?

In Marlboro the city council has not taken any action on the question of salary for its members and will not do so until next year, while in Waltham the 90-day clause has been taken into consideration and no salary action will be considered until its expiration, on or about July 7.

Other cities in the state operating under Plan B, accepted prior to this year, are Cambridge, Fitchburg, Newburyport and Salem.

LOWELL MILL OPERATIVES WILL AC-CEPT INCREASE PENDING ORDERS FROM HEADQUARTERS

The 12 1/2 per cent wage increase granted the textile operatives of this city will go into effect next Monday morning and the employees will draw

Despite the fact that the New England conference board of the United Textile Workers of America at a meeting held in Boston recently, went on record as opposing the increase on the ground that a fight had been started at Fall River for a 25 per cent increase, and only that amount would be accepted by members of the United Textile Workers of America, it was learned today that the operatives of Lowell will accept the increase pending further orders from headquarters.

On Saturday, May 12, the increase will affect thousands of operatives employed at the Merrimack Mfg. Co., Massachusetts Cotton Mills, Hamilton Mfg. Co., Appleton Co., Tremont & Suffolk, Boot and Lawrence Mfg. Co., as well as other small factories of the city.

Many Returned

John Hanley, an executive board member of the United Textile Workers of America returned yesterday afternoon from a trip to Milltown, N. H., where he spent a few days in the interest of the organization he represents. Mr. Hanley was hurriedly called to Milltown to settle a wage difficulty existing in the Cray cotton mills of that town.

It seems that some three weeks ago the operatives of the plant who work 60 hours a week, filed a demand for a 20 per cent increase, and that their demand was refused. Several meetings were held and finally a vote to strike was taken. Upon reaching Milltown, Mr. Hanley conferred with the union and mill officials and finally convinced the former to postpone the strike for eight or ten days, at which time it is expected the company will acquiesce to the demand.

MEMORIAL TO HEROES DEDICATED TODAY—TREES PLANTED IN
"REMEMBRANCE DRIVE"

A beautiful and lasting memorial to Lowell sons who gave their lives in the service of the country was formally dedicated this afternoon when five of the 50 oak trees that are to form "Remembrance Drive" in Knapp avenue were planted by Mayor John J. Dunne, Harvey B. Greene of the park commission and representatives of the A. L. C. Spanish War Veterans and American Legion.

The idea was fraught with such significance that the rain that fell steadily during the exercises was not sufficient to mar the deeper meaning as set forth by the five-year-old oaks that will be nurtured into beautiful maturity. 750 rain that seeped into the ground to give first sustenance to the roots may well have been God's blessing upon the memorial.

It was indeed fitting that such a ceremony should take place on the day set apart by the governor of the state as Arbor and Bird day, a day for serious contemplation and thought of the duty owed by the citizenry toward the persons of whom they are so proud.

Harvey B. Greene presided at the exercises and a good sized representation of World war veterans in uniform lent appropriate color to the occasion. Mr. Greene appropriately spoke of the significance of the trees and said he could conceive of no more beautiful form of memorial.

Mayor Dunne turned the earth in to the hole dug for the first tree and after tamping it around the roots surrounded the shade to Dudley L. Page, representing the Lowell posts of the G. A. R. He was followed by Major Walter R. Joyce, commander of the Spanish War Veterans and Captain Joseph A. Molloy, commander of Lowell post 87, American Legion, and finally by Mr. Greene.

As "Remembrance Drive" the street will present a beautiful appearance, fully in keeping with its surroundings and with a background of natural coloring on the slopes of Fort Hill park.

American Minister at Peking Reaches Agreement With Chinese Officials

Calls for Apology, Removal of Chief of Staff and Payment of Indemnity

WASHINGTON, April 28.—(By the Associated Press.) American Minister Sutherland at Peking has reached an agreement with the Chinese government for settlement of the Coltmán case, involving the death of Charles Coltmán, an American at the hands of Chinese soldiers at the gates of Peking.

The agreement provides for an apology from the Chinese in the person of Kakein, the immediate removal from office of the chief of staff, the chief adjutant, and the adjutant who were in command of the offending troops, and the payment to Coltmán's heirs of an indemnity to be fixed by the American government.

The result will be to remove a cause of friction which had severely strained relations between Washington and Peking. The American government had had before two Chinese officials a vigorous demand for adoption of the measures now granted and had indicated that it regarded the incident as one of the most serious that has troubled good relations in the Far East in recent years.

HELD ANNUAL GYM NIGHT

Record Crowd Sees High School Girls in Action—Unusual Program

The girls of the high school held their annual "Gym Night" in the drill shed of the high school annex last night before the largest crowd that ever attended any sort of an affair there before. It is estimated that more than 100 were crowded into the hall and each and every one was extremely interested in some of the participants in a program that included many new and novel features.

MISS FRANCES R. H. LEGGAT, Director.

men then gave a dance to the time of "Comin' Through the Bye" and as a climax, Miss Greta Russell, a native of Scotland and only a short while on these shores, danced the Highland Fling. The last number of the first section was a marching drill by the girl officers, in which numerous evolutions were performed with an ease that comes only after long hours of drill.

The second section of the program followed after an intermission of ten minutes. This part of the program featured dances. The first half of the program featured the gymnasium exercises to a greater extent.

The opening number was an exhibition of aesthetic dancing, two types being given, the Grecian and the Russian. Girls from the sophomore and junior classes gave this number and they were heartily applauded for their beautiful work. Then came the juniors in a club drill that was most perfectly timed. One could look down at a whole column of girls in this drill and it seemed that but one arm was performing the evolutions, the girls were so well drilled. Then an exhibition of apparatus work was given by members of each of the classes. This involved humorous as well as skillful demonstrations and also showed what an advantage was offered the girls in the new gymnasium.

Miss Katherine Harrington then gave a musical presentation danced to the music of Edna's Lullaby. This was without doubt one of the finest exhibitions of the evening, partaking of the Danish style of dancing. Miss Harrington interpreted the music with a skillful and delicate touch, and great credit upon the school and Miss Harrington, as it was a most ambitious selection for a high school girl. The crowd went wild with applause at the end of the number, and Miss Harrington was compelled to give an encore.

A characteristic dance, "Faster Bunch," was given by Misses Perry, Margaret Holman, Helen Beardon, Beatrice Bretton, Catherine Walsh, Anna Berthy and Helen McGinnis. This was realistic to a great extent and the performers were called back for an encore before the program could be continued.

The Language of the Flowers, an artistic conception, was one of the prettiest numbers on the program. Each girl represented a flower and carried a bouquet of her flowers throughout the dance. The participants in this were as follows: Rose, Winifred Lester; Lilacs, Gladys Thurston and Dora Sawyer; dandelions, Edith Buckley and Jean Chiquet; tulips, Edna Flynn; Gertrude, Gladys and Hazel McHale. The final number was a relay race between teams from each of the four classes and was won by the seniors.

The ushers were the following members of the faculty: Miss Edith Erskine, Miss Margaret Flynn, Miss Flynn, Miss Gertrude, Miss Hazel McHale, Miss Alice Buckner, Miss Vivian Lander, and Miss Blanche Hannon.

The program was under the direction of Miss Frances R. H. Leggat, physical director, assisted by Mrs. G. Myrtle Rooney, Mrs. Bertha C. Hume, and the accompanying of the evening.

Modern Bride's Costume Is Very Useful and So Is the Bridesmaid's, as These Models Show

BY MARIAN HALE
The 1923 bride does not invest in a costly bridal gown that has its one day of triumph, then lives the rest of its life wrapped in tissue paper in the chest, becoming an heirloom by slow and uninteresting degrees. Remove the veil and headpiece from this season's model and you get down to a smart little frock of white satin, net, georgette or taffeta, appropriate for dinners and dances for a season to come.

It is not made of that perfectly dead-white shade that was once the mode and was so generally unbecoming. Now the bride selects a deep cream or ivory tint or a pink shade that is almost flesh and harmonizes with her complexion.

The frock itself is a girlish affair of simple lines and drapery, though the effect of richness and elaboration may be gained through the addition of embroidery, beading or pearl applique.

If her veil is not of real lace, she may use tulle and a wreath of orange blossoms. The bridal cap may be any style, but undoubtedly the Russian effect, making a frame for the face is most interesting.

Her slippers may be the conventional white satin opera pump or fancy sandals or strapped models of silver brocade. The colonial effect may be carried out by buckles of pearl beads, or a rosette of white lace with an orange blossom nestling in the center. Jeweled heels and toes are seen on some of the most elaborate models.

The bridal bouquet may be as elaborate or as simple as one wishes or may be dispensed with entirely.

A string of pearls or a jeweled pendant are appropriate, but the modern bride is apt to wear no jewels at all.

The bridesmaid, too, has made radical changes in her costume this season. She no longer confines herself to the delicate pastel tones that were once her choice. She may appear in a fairly deep rose, coral or blue, with a pretty bustle bow in the back or an apron tunic of lace or embroidery, or she may have her costume entirely embroidered in floral patterns.

BACK ACHED TERRIBLY

Mrs. Robinson Tells How She Found Relief by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Amarillo, Texas.—"My back was my greatest trouble. It would ache so that it would almost kill me and I would have cramps. I suffered in this way about three years; then a lady friend suggested that I try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have had better health since, keep house and am able to do my work. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends as it has certainly given me great relief."

Mrs. C. B. Robinson, 200 N. Lincoln St., Amarillo, Tex.

The Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for women. It relieves the troubles which cause such symptoms as backache, painful times, irregularity, tired and worn-out feelings and nervousness. This is shown again and again by such letters as Mrs. Robinson writes as well as by one woman telling another. These women know what it did for them. It is surely worth your trial.

Housewives make a great mistake in allowing themselves to become so ill that it is well-nigh impossible for them to attend to their necessary household duties.

Frills Abound on Children's Newest Frocks from Paris

The children's frocks that come from Paris are frillier than they have been for some seasons past, using rows of Valenciennes lace, ruffles and ribbons for trimmings.

Many of them depart from the straight line rule and are bloused on low waistslines with very full shirred skirts or made with basque blouses.

Taffetas and organdies are used for dress-up frocks and a variety of plain, striped and checked fabrics for play frocks.

First Aid Contest by Local Telephone Co. Won by Captain Quinn's Team

Winning first aid team of the New England Telephone and Telegraph company which will represent Lowell in the district competition against teams from Lawrence, Haverhill and Concord. Left to right—Captain Edward M. Quinn, Joseph E. Morrison, Chester O. Lindquist, patient; Myron T. Hunnewell, Joseph C. Jennings and Joseph T. McGirr, Lowell district safety instructor.

Capt. Edward Quinn's first aid team won the Lowell Telephone and Telegraph competition for efficiency in emergency treatment, in the contest held in Odd Fellows hall on Middlesex street last night, to select a team to represent this city against Lawrence, Haverhill and Concord, for the district championship. The winning team emerged from the contest with an average of 97.8 out of a possible 100. Capt. Benjamin Ashworth led his team to the pole a close second, with a mark of 96.8.

Capt. Roland Gougeon's representatives registered 99.5 and the fourth club led by Charles Rogers trailed the procession with 83.5. The latter team has only been practicing for two weeks, and as a result of the unfamiliarity with the proper methods of procedure, they lost points by taking extra time.

Four teams took the floor, with five players on each club. They were presented with five problems, apt to happen in a crowd on outside work. The first problem was as follows: Lillian's spine cuts out on pole and as a result of fall, he has broken kneecap of right leg, dislocated right shoulder and fractured jaw. The competition was close in this problem, team one and two being credited with 92 points.

The regular captain acted as patient in the second problem while the regular patient administered the treatment. The problem, an automobile backed while being cranked; chauffeur sustains a simple fracture of the right wrist and a cut over right eye. Team two was credited with a perfect mark in this problem. One and three getting 97.

The third problem: Lineman fell from pole, treat simple fracture of right thigh, cut on calf of right leg with arterial bleeding and fracture of lower leg. Prepare for transportation and carry patient around enclosure.

Two men and a patient entered the fourth problem. Cable splicer found unconscious from gas. Locate patient and carry by fireman's hold, then render artificial respiration for one minute and treat burn on right hand. Teams two and three made a perfect score in this problem.

Capt. Quinn's players won the contest in the last problem with a mark of 99.5. An extension ladder slips, throwing lineman to ground, causing simple fracture of right thigh, compound fracture of left arm above the elbow and dislocated jaw.

The announcement of the winning team was greeted with cheers by the assembly of telephone employees gathered around the sides of the hall. Arthur Hinkle of Boston, division first aid instructor, acted as chief judge. Other judges were Charles A. Cook of Fall River, Scott B. Furdy of Framingham, John M. Murney, Jr., of Salem and Wilmarth Pierce of Taunton.

all safety first instructors. Joseph T. McGirr officiated as time-keeper; W. C. Johnson as recorder and Albert Alcott as checker.

The winning team will meet Haverhill, Concord and Lawrence in the latter city May 3, for the district championship. The winner of this competition will compete for the divisional championship in this city May 31, against teams from the Salem, New Bedford, Brockton and Framingham districts.

The teams were made up as follows, placed according to their standing in the elimination trial: Capt. Edward Quinn, Chester O. Lindquist, patient; Jos. C. Jennings, Jos. E. Morrison and Myron T. Hunnewell.

Capt. Benjamin Ashworth, Louis J. Turner, Edward M. McKee, patient; John Luskard and Morris E. Nelson.

Capt. Roland Gougeon, David Ramsay, Eldon Thompson, Joseph Spillars, patient, Waterhouse.

Capt. Charles Rogers, Wilfred Hammond, patient; Lewis Haddock, James Deveau and Edward Jennings.

Emergency kits are carried on all company trucks. Schools of instruction are held at stated periods to teach the employees the methods of treatment if an accident occurs. The work is voluntary, there is no extra pay, simply a means, perhaps, of saving a fellow worker's life or alleviating him of pain in case of minor injuries.

public announcement had been made, and in that plan there had been methods of meeting the human element and overcoming objections.

It's all very well to produce figures and facts, blue-prints and maps, but how about the selling-talk to make those things effective? In the first announcement of their proposed expansion the Saco-Lowell had "sold" their idea, they would not have met hesitation in the council nor opposition from anybody. The fact is that their idea was not half-sold. Now they have to use argument and negotiation to force the "sale."

Referring again to Norval Hawkins, "You can pick up a slide-rule any time without giving it a smile and it will do its little job for you quickly, unquestionably, and without a grumble. Then you can throw it down and pay no more attention to it. You need show no special interest in its performance. You do not need to help it with encouragement or advice, and when its work does not bring the result you wanted, you can show all the temper you please. Above all, you never need to tell your slide-rule the reason why it will work as well for a hilly or a grumpy, or a snob, as for a real man—but men will not. They are handicapped with all sorts of human touchiness and personal ambitions."

That's what the Saco-Lowell should have remembered! Chelmsford Street Hospital The writer, toured the Chelmsford street hospital recently under the guidance of one of the attendants and though depressed by the sorrow harbored in one statement made by his leader. We were gazing out into the yard where many old codgers, dependent upon charity for a living and a home, were lounging in the sun for the first time after the long winter. Many of them were very aged and what would make one sad was to realize that they had given up the battle, having abandoned hope of ever leaving their present abode.

One of the most natural questions was: "How many inmates have you now?" The attendant answered that during the winter the institution was filled, but that just as soon as "spring comes, and the robins fly," the attendance drops considerably. "Already many of the men have heard the robins chirping and have gone their way; there are 324 inmates now," he replied.

And then in passing through the hospital, it really did seem that the cheerfulness of spring had placed the and-pass, bringing smiles and signs of joyfulness. But how heart-breaking it was to see so many old men and women unable to answer the call of spring, or the chirping of the robins! There is the real sorrow of the place!

System Building Tonic Treatment Was Exactly What Mrs. Day Required

Many people are far from well, but have no organic disease and regular calls by a busy physician seem a waste of his time. But to the patient the loss of health, strength and vigor takes much of the joy out of life. In such cases a system building tonic that will enrich the blood and strengthen the nerves will usually enable nature to get the sufferer on the road to health. Such a case follows:

"I had a general giving out of my health," says Mrs. Bertha Day, of No. 63 Alder street, Portland, Me., "and no treatment that I took seemed to even check the decline."

"I was sick all over and did not have a bit of strength or ambition. I had a heavy, all headache and a pain in the back of my neck. I was short of breath after no greater exertion than walking upstairs. My digestion was disordered and I was subject to heartburn and nausea."

"Upon the advice of Mr. Day's mother I began to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and by the time I had finished the first box I began to gain strength and I took six boxes in all and they made me feel like a new person. They built me up, I gained in flesh and my headaches vanished. My nerves are strong. I have a good appetite and I have great faith in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a tonic and blood builder."

The lowering of the tone of the system which results from thin blood is easy to recognize. Weakness is always present, a tendency to perspire and fatigue easily, ringing in the ears, black spots passing before the eyes, weak back, dizziness, wakefulness and unrefreshing sleep. These conditions Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will correct.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or direct from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., on receipt of price, 60 cents per box. Send for the free booklet, "Building Up the Blood."—Adv.

ALL SET FOR RACE ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 28.—With prospects of favorable conditions, eight oared crews of Massachusetts Tech and Navy, were set for their regatta on the Severn river today. Navy's junior "coxswain" and "coxswain" will row against Tech's light or 150-pound eight in the opening contest at 4 o'clock and the "varsity" crews of the two institutions will meet immediately afterward.

Table Linen Never starch tablecloths or table linen. Into the water in which you are rinsing them add a tablespoon of methylated spirit to a gallon of rinsing water. This will make them stiff enough and glossy and white as well.

From the police station, or those with delirium tremens, the attendant explained the evident effects of moonshine or bad liquor.

Before prohibition he said that violent drunks or P. T.'s would be in a bad condition for four or five days, but with the moonshine and prisoners it is now obtainable the effects extend into periods of eight to ten days.

He declared that there have been drunks confined at the hospital who would drink deeply of wood alcohol, a sip of which would blind or kill the average person.

Permanent paralysis is one consequence of excess in poisonous moonshine which eats through the kidneys and thus reaches the spine.

Warren Street Fire Station What is to be done with the Warren street fire station? It has been empty for probably two years and more.

It is understood that when the city took over the Warren street fire station from the Middlesex company the stipulation was made that if ever the city should give it up as a fire station, it should revert directly to the Middlesex company.

The city still assumes control of the building through the fire department, although it was given up as a fire station really about two years ago. An old fire engine has been stored there ever since, however, and perhaps that maintains the status of the building as a fire station, is the city preventing any profitable use of the building by using it simply for storing an old wagon?

SUMMER ENCAMPMENT FUND BOOSTED

The summer encampment fund of the St. Peter's Cadets received a boost last night, as a result of the successful impromptu minstrel show and dance put over by the Cadets in Lincoln hall. A capacity audience was entertained by the original and amusing antics of the performers. The work of the chorus of 25 voices was exceptionally good for an amateur production.

The orchestra opened the program with a well rendered selection, "The Wooden Soldiers." The chorus followed with a revue of old time songs, that carried an appeal to the audience. William Glodo won favor with a solo, "Angels." Joseph Gallego pleased with a violin solo, "Fate."

"O You Little Darling," by Gerald Hennessey, impersonating Madame Geraldine, went over big. A violin solo, "Telephony," by Edward Shugrue, was well played. William Conahan sang "Mush, Mush," in an amusing manner. Chief John Hogan sang "Buddy," Edward Welch "Auld Lang Syne." The Cadet chorus closed the entertainment. Dancing was enjoyed until a late hour.

The Looker-on in Lowell

Salesmanship is something we all most know—as it affects our daily work and our social affairs. We all must be our own salesman, we all must look out for our own goods, that is believe in ourselves, in what we are, what we do, or can do and ought to do. The first requisite of good salesmanship is to know and believe in your goods. Therefore, the first requisite to personal salesmanship or success is to know yourself, have confidence in yourself, know your abilities and also your limits.

New ideas to be successful, must be sold properly to those people who will be affected by the changes you propose. As Norval A. Hawkins, director of sales, advertising, advisory staff, of the General Motors Corporation has said, "You cannot get a plan across unless you sell the idea and sell it the right way, and you cannot sell it the right way unless you know how to sell. New ideas to be come effective must be sold. You cannot cram them into people's heads as you might force raw material into a machine. Forced feeding cannot be made successful in the case of the human machine. It is just as important to work out a systematic plan of getting your ideas across to the other fellow as it is to develop the ideas themselves. There are no problems of life involving relations between man and man that salesmanship cannot aid in solving.

Take the Saco-Lowell expansion program as an example for the necessity of salesmanship. There is no doubt that the Saco-Lowell officials were at fault in mapping out (if they did it at all) a systematic plan of selling their proposition to the public, the city government, and particularly to those people who would be most affected by it.

It really seems that the Saco-Lowell announced their intentions of expanding and closing Worthen street before they were prepared, even to fully explain their plans. In other words, they didn't know their goods—they didn't know what they could do or what they ought to have done. How much easier it would have been if an efficient selling plan had been organized before

RESTORED TO GOOD HEALTH MOTHER AND CHILDREN GRATEFUL

In East Boston, Mass., at 23 Lanson street, a contented family of three children and the mother, five daily thanking in silence the kind neighbor who helped them when they were sick. Mrs. Nellie Woodford is the mother and she writes the following letter to Dr. J. P. True & Co.: "Having heard about your medicine from my neighbors and druggists, I wondered if you Dr. True's Elixir was what I needed. I was a hard-working woman, working six hours every day for the Penn Realty Trust Company in Boston. In doing this work I use a lot of strength. Besides this, looking after my house and the care of my three children were me out."

"I always had a special doctor for myself and the children, but he was out of town when I was sick. I took medicine from the druggist which my friends brought in, but nothing did any good. My bowels were out of order. My breath bad, and I was shaky all over. Worst of all the terrible headaches came. It seemed I had suffered years before your Dr. True's Elixir was brought to me by a neighbor. "After a short time I began to cheer up and be myself again. My bowels were soon in order and I noticed that the dizzy spells had left me. I think your Elixir wonderful. I feel full of gratitude toward Dr. True's Elixir.

"The children sometimes eat things which don't agree with them, when I am not around to see, and then cramps and constipation follow. I just get out my bottle of Dr. True's Elixir and find no trouble in getting them to take some. It is easy to take. Their bowels are soon all right. It may interest you to know that recently my youngest child was terribly sick and it was a serious case. We all have your Elixir to thank for relieving her of stomach worms. When I gave it to Louise it acted like magic, and fixed her up only after two doses."

Signs of worms are: Constipation, hard and full stomach, swollen upper lip, sour stomach, offensive breath, and occasional pains, pale face of leaden tint, eyes heavy and dull, twitching eyelids, itching of the nostrils, and short dry coughs, grinding of the teeth, little red points sticking out on the tongue, starting during sleep, with troublesome dreams, slow fever. If your children show any of these symptoms, start giving Dr. True's Elixir, the True Family Laxative and Worm Expeller at once. It has done wonders for children and grown-ups since 1851. Made of imported herbs of strictly pure quality. Internationally known. 10c—80c—$1.50.—Adv.

men practice, even among the leading players of the country.

If a player's ball at rest on the fairway, and his opponent's ball strikes it, and deflects it into a hole on the course, what is the proper course to pursue? Must the ball be played to the hole, or has the player the right to lift and drop the ball without penalty? This happened in a match game between two bitter rivals and a serious argument arose as to the proper procedure.

In match play, it is permissible to lift the ball and drop it without penalty, at the spot where it lay when deflected. In match play, the moved ball must be replaced before being played.

DE VALERA'S PROCLAMATION SHEDS LITTLE NEW LIGHT ON THE IRISH POLITICAL SITUATION

Republican Leader Asks Armistice and Peace Delay—Orders Suspension of Hostilities But Fails to Surrender Arms—Paper Calls Action Maneuver Designed to Extort Impossible Terms or Procure Breathing Spell to Reorganize Forces

DUBLIN, April 28. (By the Associated Press.)—Eamon de Valera's statement of the conditions on which the Irish republicans are willing to negotiate peace sheds little new light on the political situation. In the opinion of Free State government circles, although it does not contain a definite order suspending hostilities as evidence of the irregulars' "good will."

De Valera's proclamation contains six proposals which are generally regarded as embodying the points of his old position. He asserts that the Irish people constitute "the ultimate court of appeal for deciding disputed questions on national expediency and policy" and declares in substance that persons holding republican principles should not be excluded from the councils of the government. This position, set forth in Article 4, is taken in some quarters as expressing the desire that the oath of allegiance prescribed by the treaty with Great Britain may be waived. The article asserts that "no class of individuals who subscribe to the principles of national right, order and good citizenship contained in the proclamation can be justly excluded by any political oath, test or other device from a proper share and influence in determining national policy, or from the councils, and parliament of the nation."

Another of the stipulations is that "freedom to express political or economic opinions, or to advocate political or economic programs, freedom to assemble in public meetings and freedom to press a right of citizenship and of community, must not be abrogated."

Commenting on the proclamation, the Freeman's Journal says today: "Frankly, it is difficult to see anything in it but another maneuver designed to extort terms which it is clearly impossible for the government to accept. It is something better than that De Valera can easily make it clear by leaving the issue to the ultimate court of appeal and immediately abandoning the weapons he has been employing for the intimidation and destruction of that court."

The Irish Times regrets that De Valera fails to realize the newspaper for dissent. The newspaper interpreted the proclamation as an attempt to mean that the republican leader accepts the Free State or that he continues to reject it. The Times also asserts that De Valera claims the right to sit in the national parliament even while refusing to take the oath of allegiance to the national constitution.

The Free State, it continues, cannot compromise its security, nor can it tolerate outrage, but it nevertheless should test the feasibility of De Valera's proposed basis of negotiations.

The following order, signed by the chief of staff, E. F. Aiken, was issued from the Irish republican army headquarters last night:

"To All Commandants and Independent Brigades:

"Suspension of offensive—in order to give effect to the decision of the government and army council embodied in the attached proclamation, you will arrange a suspension of all offensive operations in your area as from noon, Monday, April 30.

EMON DE VALERA

"You will insure that while remaining on the defensive all units take adequate measures to protect themselves and their munitions."

Claims of Britain and Mexico Held Up

LONDON, April 28.—The proposed settlement of the outstanding claims between Great Britain and Mexico is being held up, according to British circles, by the attitude of the Mexican government, which has raised a number of objections.

The Times of London yesterday announced that a convention was being negotiated to submit the claims between Mexico and Great Britain to arbitration and added that it was not unreasonable to suppose this would lead to consideration of recognition of the Obregon government.

machine under the influence of liquor, which causes many accidents because he has not the same control over the wheel he would have if he were otherwise. Many careless automobilists fail to keep to the right, slow down when coming to a railroad crossing or a curve, to look for school and danger signs and to follow the instructions given on them, to obey the speed laws, and to obey the signals of the traffic officers.

"Every school child in Lowell ought to make a safety pledge and fulfill it; also help others acquire those safety habits that will decrease the number of accidents and let us further down on the list in the number of accidents as this is not a very good record for such a small city. There ought to be a law passed that no one should drive through the center of the city over twelve miles an hour and place a heavy fine for violation of this law."

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ESSAY CONTEST

Below is Master Russell McDermott's solution to the problem of the chamber of commerce essay contest: "How Can We Make Our Streets Safe For School Children?" Master McDermott is a student of the Riverside grammar school and was awarded an Eversharp pencil for his composition. His essay:

"This is indeed a timely subject because of the 'Safety First' campaign now being conducted in Lowell and surely Lowell needs it because last year Lowell was seventh on the list in the number of accidents in the United States. This campaign is under way to reduce the appalling loss of life.

"In order to avoid many accidents we must learn the safety habits and practice them daily. We should set a good example to younger children and they must learn to require safety habits that will minimize the loss of life and limbs. We must help them realize the danger that confronts them in their play, work, and every day activities. Help them see what carelessness and ignorance cost in lives, injuries, health, happiness, and progress. We must get familiar with the traffic laws and obey them."

We must overcome the dangerous habits of playing in the railroad yards, playing in the street, and picking up wires, as many times they are alive and the holder is electrocuted. We must not carry on a conversation while crossing a street. We should make a practice of walking in the white lines while crossing a busy street. We should wait for the policeman's signal before crossing a street. Many times the automobilist is subject to many traffic laws which he does not like, but without laws a great many more than there is now would be subject to treatments in the hospitals. The careless automobilist who drives fast and violates the speed law not only endangers his own life but also that of other people. The careless automobilist fails to put out his hand when about to stop or to turn a corner, which causes many accidents. He also fails to sound his horn and does not give warning to other automobilists when he has occasion to do so. Many times the automobilist operates a

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 8

"How are we going to ride when we haven't anything to ride in?" questioned Jack. "Well," replied Emy Meeny, "let's take a look at my basket and see what we can find in it this time." And with that he pulled out a great white sheet and held it up. "Now, guess what's behind it," said he.

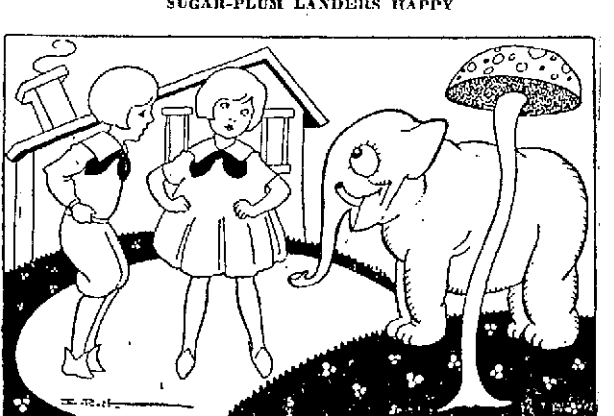

But before Jack could make even one guess, down came the sheet and there stood a beautiful little zebra. "Just another one of my tricks," laughed the mysterious old man. And then he told Jack that the zebra would gladly take him over to the queer looking trees which Jack wanted to see.

"Hop right on the zebra's back," said Emy Meeny. Jack did, and the zebra immediately started the journey. Emy Meeny took hold of the little animal's mane and walked along side. Fly barked joyously and now and then jumped up to paw Jack. The ride was a very interesting one. (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Olive Roberts Barton

"WHAT HAPPENED?" ASKED THE KNICK-KNACK ELEPHANT

When Nancy and Nick left the Cut-Out Lady's house, all the Sugar-Plum Landers crowded about them.

Not one of them was walking on his head in spite of the fact that the Gingerbread Man had said everybody must walk on his head for a week.

"What happened?" asked the Knick-Knack Elephant.

"It's all right," nodded Nick. "The Cut-Out Lady won't make the Gingerbread Man cross any more because we gave her a heart and another good eye. So now he won't make any more bad laws for you to break."

"Oh, goody," cried the elephant turning a back somersault.

"Let's all go to the Gingerbread Man's palace," said the Chocolate Rabbit.

"Yes, let's," repeated the Muffin Man. "I haven't seen him since I made him and no doubt he needs patching."

Nancy and Nick led the procession, and away they all marched past the trolley field and the orchard of sundae-trees to the place where the Gingerbread Man lived in a house made of bricks of ice cream of different shades and spinkled with chocolate chips.

"We have good news, your majesty," said Nick. "The Cut-Out Lady will now your buttons on straight after this."

LANDRY SAID HE SMELLED MOONSHINE

Ernest Landry, charged with breaking and entering in the night time with intent to commit larceny in the camp of George W. Morrison at Mud pond, Tyeabrook, was brought to court this morning. The complainant testified that his camp had been broken into on two occasions and several valuables taken on January 15. Landry was seen by a neighbor in the vicinity of a Tyeabrook officer last evening and he was taken into custody on suspicion of being the culprit.

Testifying in his own behalf, Landry said the court that he was passing the camp about 5:30 last evening, and his curiosity was aroused by a moonshine odor, which he alleged, came from the camp. In question, he was investigating when the officer arrested him.

Morrison denied having any moonshine on his premises, and added that it was near 5 o'clock that the break was made. Landry's record was produced to show that he is serving a probationary period for drunkenness.

Do Your Children Grow Fast Enough?

Are They Sturdy, Healthy, and Strong, or Pale, Weak and Run Down?

Growing children need a great deal of food, and sometimes they will not eat the kind of food that they need for strength until they become thin, pale, and run down.

This condition of under-nourishment can be corrected by taking Father John's Medicine, which does contain just the food elements such children need, and that is why so many children grow so weighty and healthy while they are taking this old-fashioned family medicine.

Father John's Medicine is an expertly blended preparation of cod liver oil with other ingredients in such a way that its food elements can be easily taken up by those who are weak and run down. Your family and neighbors know its value. Thousands of mothers depend upon it to keep their children well and strong. Adv.

DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME IN EFFECT TOMORROW

The daylight saving law goes into effect in Massachusetts at 2 o'clock Sunday morning, although from the standpoint of personal convenience it is advisable to set clock and watch hands ahead one hour before retiring tonight. This will obviate the painful necessity of arising near the zero hour and the effect tomorrow morning will be identical.

This year is the fifth in which daylight saving will go into effect locally. It will continue until Sept. 24. By this time Lowell folks have become accustomed to this change in time and confusion is expected only in isolated instances.

The transition amounts to nothing more than this: Move all clocks ahead one hour and then go on living as normally as before. Operate entirely by timepieces which conform to daylight saving time and do not become confused because railroad clocks are running an hour earlier. Catch trains by daylight saving watches and clocks. For instance, the railroad may call the train that leaves Boston for Lowell at 5 o'clock, the 1 o'clock train, but you should verify.

DIFFERENCE OF TIME IN THE CHURCHES

With the inauguration of daylight saving time tomorrow, local churchgoers are apt to become confused in the scheduled hours of service. Of the English-speaking Catholic churches, St. Margaret's, St. Columba's, St. Michael's and the Sacred Heart will conduct services according to daylight saving time, while the Immaculate Conception, St. Patrick's and St. Peter's churches will abide by eastern standard or the same as last Sunday.

The women's mission in St. Margaret's church will be brought to a close tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock with sermon, benediction of the Blessed Sacrament and bestowal of the papal blessing. The men's mission will open in the evening at 7:30 and continue until the following Sunday afternoon. The Dominican fathers will open a two weeks' mission in St. Michael's church tomorrow evening, the first devoted to the women and the second to the men.

The devotion to Rita will be continued in St. Columba's church, South Boston, beginning a week from Sunday, the devotion will start at 7 o'clock.

All the French churches, St. Joseph's, St. Jean Baptiste, St. Louis Notre Dame de Lourdes, St. Jeanne d'Arc and St. Marie's will conduct services in accordance with the daylight saving schedule.

Daylight saving time will prevail in all Protestant churches of the city.

NATIONAL GARDEN WEEK IN THE SCHOOLS

National Garden week was brought to a close in the schools of the city yesterday afternoon by the final distribution of seeds to the children who have signified their intention of planting gardens at home.

Miss Alice T. Lee, supervisor of kindergarten and director of school and home gardens, is in charge of this work and during the past week has distributed over 5000 packages of seeds, both vegetable and flower, and has completed the school and school-room gardening organizations in every school in the city.

The school organization is unique in that, after the seeds are distributed, the executive work falls directly upon the student officers. Each school has its own president of the garden club, and each room has a superintendent, and several inspectors. The officers supervise the work and report back to Miss Lee in writing.

Up to the present time the Varnum junior high school leads all the others in the number of students who wish to plant, with a total registration of 455, while the Greenhalge grammar comes next with 406 and the primary school connected with the Greenhalge has 200 young gardeners.

The kindergarten grades receive a package of one kind of seed only, the 1st and 2nd grades receive two kinds and all grades above these receive a whole assortment of either flower or vegetable seeds.

In her instructions to the children Miss Lee emphasized the fact that the parents should be relied upon for assistance, as each seed is a plant and there is no necessity for throwing away plants by careless planting without the assistance of the parents. Next week is vacation week and if the weather permits, all of the seeds that have been distributed will be planted before its end.

The seeds which are distributed are all government seeds, sent to the Lowell schools through the courtesy of Congressman Rogers.

Even though 50 per cent. of the gardens are failures, which past performances have proved not to be the case, the school garden idea is a success, for it brings the school and the home closer together than any other thing in the whole school system.
